CAUC Receives Dornod License Suspension Notice from MRAM

TORONTO, ONTARIO, Wednesday, July 15, 2009 – Khan Resources Inc. (TSX:KRI) (“Khan”) today was informed by the Mineral Resources Authority of Mongolia (“MRAM”) that the mining license 237A of the joint venture company Central Asia Uranium Corporation, Limited (“CAUC”), which is one of the two primary licenses for Khan’s Dornod uranium deposit, has been temporarily suspended for three months due to alleged violations cited by inspectors from Mongolia’s State Inspection Agency on their visit to the Dornod site in mid April, 2009. CAUC is a joint venture between one of Khan’s wholly owned subsidiaries (58%), the Russian company Priargunsky (21%), and the government of Mongolia (21%).

Although Khan has not yet received the details of the alleged violations, management is confident that CAUC has complied with the terms of the mining licence 237A in all material respects and therefore once the alleged violations have been specified, they will be corrected.

Khan will provide further updates as information becomes available.
